

Block Party Fun

with Magical Balloon-dude Dale

Giggling neighborhood kids huddle around the balloon festivities — as if enchanted by the pied piper — adults relax in peace. Neighbor's conversations focus on how much they enjoy watching these imaginative works of art develop. The community is at harmony with every twist and joke as a veteran entertainer insures that the unforeseen balloon pop will not deflate a child's fun.

Dale was so good at balloon skills, he created a monkey without even looking at his hands, while entertaining the group surrounding him with comedy. Awesome! - Tracy Sims

Everyone in our family (young and old) had a wonderful experience and was in awe as they watched the balloons turn into various creations. This was by far the best entertainment we've had -- Donna Dickson & Family

The Non-Funny Stuff
