

Magical Balloon-dude Dale

Traffic is at a standstill. Perspective clients watch a professional product representative / good-humored balloon entertainer orchestrates a well-balanced sale pitch while crafting a unique balloon giveaway. Dale's proprietary marketing system propels your corporate name or slogan around the trade show floor. Customers leave happy, informed, and willing to boast about what they have seen and heard.

Take traffic building to a new level.

DALE
EXCEEDING YOUR EXPECTATIONS

Dale worked to make our event excellent by spending time before the event researching what we do and working with us to get the most out of his services. His extraordinary level of energy brought people into our booth space. I can't stress enough how many compliments we received and how many attendees ask where he was once he left. Overall Excellent! - Jessica Gochenour, Professional Research Consultants, Inc

Dale is represented by meeting planners, event producers and Speaking bureaus. Please contact them for his availability.
