Dale Obrochta Magical Balloon-dude

Observing the exhibit hall, you see small groups of exhibitors socializing. Suddenly, your eyes catches a glimpse of color on an exhibitor's wrist. You look cross-aisle and you see a mermaid on a woman's wrist and an shark hat on the person from Vancouver. Down the main aisle you see an exhibitor showing off a detailed scuba diver. In the distance, you can hear laughter from a group of executives who are huddled in the main island booth studing a turtle.

There, standing in the middle of the crowd, is Magical Balloon-dude Dale. Executives and booth personnel are laughing and watching your talented visual artist, twist 4-foot balloons into works of art.

The atmosphere that you and Dale have created allows exhibitors to relax after a long day of exhibiting. Groups mingle as they visit with long-lost friends from past trade shows while talking about the fun they are having at the CHA Show.
